Brownell Moves Into FHA Mess

Take it from Here

NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK — Ralph Richie, executive manager of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce, has lost little time in replying to a news story appearing in the Orlando, Fla., Sentinel which had "bad" things to say about Dixon.

The article was purportedly an interview with Mr and Mrs Sidney Keagy, formerly of Dixon, in which Mr. Keagy made some uncomplimentary remarks about Dixon's climate, industry and future. The story was obviously keyed to extol the glories of Orlando. Here's Ralph's letter directed to the editor of the Orlando Sentmel

Dear Sir:

Please stop me if I am wrong, but an Editorial in the Dixon Evening Telegraph has informed the citizens of Dixon, Illinois that in an effort to expand and glorify the city of Orlando, Fla., quotations from adopted citizens of your community were published in your paper. One of these quotations came from a Mr. Sidney Heagy, a former resident of Dixon

We naturally take offense to his remarks as they are plainly erroneous and far fetched. In fact, they are so exaggerated that any intelligent person would recognize them to be false.

For your information Dixon has a greater population of nearly 15,000 people; is an aggressive Industrial and Farming Community with high standards and ideals that we could discuss at great lengths. As an adopted resident of Dixon, I wish to add that it is as nice a city as you will find in America today.

In the future we feel that a little checking would be in order before publishing material without any foundation.

Sincerely,
Ralph M. Richie

We'd like to extend our congratulations to the Ottawa Republican-Times for winning a 'local government news contest' conducted by the School of Journalism, University of Wisconsin

The Ottawa Rep-Times, as some of you know, is edited by Herb Hames, a Dixon Evening Telegraph alumnus. Herb, who began his journalistic career with the Telegraph, is doing an excellent job as "boss man" of the Rep-Times' editorial department. His persistent, factual interpretation of the government doings in the Ottawa area has wrought some changes for the better in his community.

Our warm, personal congratulations go to Herb and his staff.

To Ralph Richie executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce: Our hand is outstretched, waiting the day when it is to clutch a dollar bill Being a recent resident of the Cleveland area shouldn't have clouded your judgment during the World Series. I'm awaitin'

Urges March on Capitol To Save Sen. McCarthy

New York Rabbi Proposes Plan at Dinner for Cohn

BALTIMORE (AP)—A testimonial dinner honoring Sen McCarthy's former chief aide touched off Tuesday night what sponsors hope will be a nationwide "march on Washington" to save McCarthy from censure by the senate

Roy M Cohn, who resigned as counsel for McCarthy's Investigations subcommittee after the recent row between the Wisconsin Republican senator and the Army Department, was honored by 676 persons at the $6-a-plate dinner here.

Defend Senator

His speech and those of half a dozen others on the program were keyed to the defense of McCarthy and his fight against communism

Rabbi Benjamin Schultz of New York toastmaster, urged the audience to "join thousands of people from all over the country at a solemn, dignified convocation in Washington on Nov 11 to protest the smear of anti-Communists"

On Nov 8 the Senate is scheduled to reconvene to consider a special committee recommendation that McCarthy be censured

Headed by Sen Watkins (R-Utah), the committee said it had found that McCarthy showed contempt of the 1952 Senate Elections subcommittee and used vulgar language about a member of that group. It also formally accused him of abusing Brig Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker when he appeared before the McCarthy subcommittee

Target: McCarthy

The Watkins committee said Cohn when his turn came on the five-hour dinner program "was constituted for the sole purpose of getting McCarthy's scalp"

The contempt charge against McCarthy, Cohn said, was "answered in 1952, when the voters of Wisconsin heard his side of the story and reelected him by over half a million votes—the biggest majority ever given to a candidate in a Wisconsin senate election"

Official records of the 1952 Wisconsin senatorial election show McCarthy defeated his Democratic opponent Thomas E Fairchild by 139 042 votes McCarthy polled 870 144 to Fairchild's 731,402

In the 1952 Republican primary, McCarthy polled 515 481 to 213 701 for his principal opponent, Len Schmitt

McCarthy's questioning of Zwicker he added resulted from the senator's 'devotion to his country in what he believed to be his duty'

Creates New Justice Unit For Scandals

Assigns Top Attorney To Assist in Grand Jury Probe of Bribes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen Brownell today created a new unit in the justice department's criminal division to handle a mounting number of cases arising from scandals in the Federal Housing Administration

At the same time the attorney general said he is assigning Max H Goldschein, a top criminal prosecutor in the department, to assist U S Atty Leo A Rover in presenting housing matters before a special grand jury opening here today

To Probe Bribery

The department said the special grand jury will 'inquire into bribery and other criminal conduct in the federal housing program, and specifically into the conduct of Clyde L Powell," ousted assistant FHA commissioner

Meanwhile, Powell sought a court order to block the grand jury investigation

Through his attorney, Daniel B. Maher, Powell filed papers challenging the validity of the grand jury

Maher's petition asked the U S District Court to 'take judicial notice of countless predictions in newspapers and political forecasters that there would be political indictments returned against members of the former administration prior to the November election"

Today's developments came in the wake of testimony before the Senate Banking Committee Tuesday that Powell demanded and received $10 000 from a Washington architect before he would approve an application for increasing an FHA insured loan on an apartment project here

Cite Bank Account

The committee also heard testimony that Powell banked almost three times his salary over a period from 1945 through last April, although he reported only his salary on federal income tax returns.

The Justice Department said Powell 'had charge of the rental housing program which operated from 1946 to 1950 and resulted in windfalls to speculators exceed 51 million dollars alone in 285 cases reviewed by the Housing and Home Finance Agency

The Banking Committee planned more testimony today on alleged windfall profits made by private promoters on apartment projects built with government-insured loans.

Chairman Capehart (R Ind) said 10 witnesses on call would nearly all testify on apartments erected under a now-expired federal housing program which allegedly yielded millions in inflated profits to builders

Hear Witnesses

The committee Tuesday heard a stream of witnesses tell of direct money payments and loans to Powell, a 20-year veteran of government service until he was fired last spring as assistant federal housing commissioner in charge of rental housing operations The committee also was told that Powell was a heavy gambler

Powell took the witness chair late in the day but he refused to answer questions He claimed his constitutional protection against possible self incrimination — the same grounds on which he had refused to testify in two previous appearances before the Banking Committee

Powell was scheduled to appear today before a federal grand jury convened here to look into charges of widespread irregularities in Federal Housing Administration operations

Ogle Adviser Warns of Fire Danger

By HARRIETT HUTCHINGS
Ogle Home Adviser

OREGON—This week throughout the nation special emphasis is being placed on fire prevention. Did you know that each day on the average 33 people are killed by fire? And that one-third of these deaths occur on the farm?

It is up to you homemakers to teach your families to be fire-safety conscious. Make this year's Fire Prevention Week slogan "Let's Grow Up—Not Burn Up! your slogan too.

Remember that a child plus a match is still a "sure-fire combination." Latest figures show that three out of every 10 fire fatalities are children 14 years or younger. So instruct your children on fire safety.

Small youngsters should be told why they are not to play with matches, electrical cords and other potential sources of fire in the home. Children also must be impressed with the danger of gasoline and kerosene vapors.

They must learn "by instruction and good example" not to bring matches and other incendiary articles near dry hay, straw, or underbrush, or near the engines and fuel of farm machinery.

Get rid of all trash as trash provides fuel for unwanted fires. Oily rags are dangerous and if kept should be stored in covered metal containers because if they are exposed to air, they may ignite spontaneously.

Don't wait until you have a fire to replace badly worn electrical wiring.

Do you know how to save yourself if you are in a building that catches fire? If you are trapped in a smoke-filled building, remember that the air is clearer near the floor. Protect your face from heat and flame.

Feel doors before opening them. If they are hot, deadly heat or flame may be on the other side. If you are trapped on an upper story, don't jump unless it is the last resort. It's a good idea to figure out a way of escape from each room before a fire occurs. And once out of the building, don't re-enter the burning area to save property.

In its first year, millions of motorists have proved the benefits of MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP)—Off-duty guards picketed the Indiana State Prison early today in a protest aimed at getting state officials to meet with their union representatives.

The midnight shift of guards went to work in normal strength, but members of the outgoing shift formed picket lines soon after midnight.

Merle Griffith, vice president of the International Guards Union, said the postmidnight demonstration was not ordered by the union, but he added, "The strike is on."

Griffith had said earlier he had telegraphed Gov. George M. Craig stating that a walkout might come at 7 a.m. today if the governor did not agree by that time to meet with union representatives. Griffith indicated that a limited number of guards would be left on duty to feed the 2,300 prisoners and to keep them under surveillance. The prison employs about 190 guards.

National Guard units stood by in armories at Gary ready to move in any emergency, and other units at Valparaiso and Whiting were on a four-hour alert. State police also were ready to mass troopers at the prison quickly if necessary.

Gov. Craig said in response to the union's ultimatum:

"We won't recognize the union now or at any time in the future, and we won't recognize anyone else who seeks to turn people against the government."

"You can't strike against the government, and Griffith might just as well find out about it now," the governor added.

Hugh P. O'Brien, chairman of the State Board of Corrections, handed the guards on the midnight shift cards stating, "I will (will not) be loyal to the state of Indiana." The guards were asked to check one answer and sign the cards.

Two guards, John Kring of Michigan City and Henry Pearson of Laporte, Ind., said they were fired on the spot for refusing to sign the cards.

Griffith has been seeking a conference with O'Brien or the governor to discuss demands for a 40-hour week, higher pay, improvement of working conditions and reinstatement of four guards fired previously. The union said the guards were fired for union activity.

Ike Maps Political Strategy

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower and Republican congressional leaders will hold a political strategy conference here Friday on the November elections.

Announcing this today, the Denver White House said the leaders and the chief executive also will review the international situation.

The conference will be held late in the day about two hours before Eisenhower makes a nationwide television-radio address here in behalf of election of a Republican congress.

The congressional leaders and Vice President Nixon will join Eisenhower at the rally in Denvers Municipal Auditorium.

Announcement of the Friday conference came shortly after the White House said the President is considering several invitations to make additional campaign speeches.

Herbert Hoover Has Homecoming In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)— It's homecoming day today for the Commerce Department's best-known alumnus Herbert Hoover.

The former President, now 80 years old, was secretary of commerce from 1921 to 1928, before becoming Chief Executive.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks arranged ceremonies honoring his predecessor of 26 years ago. Some 800 employes who were on the department's payroll when Hoover was chief and still are were invited to a reunion in the departmental auditorium.

Hoover was scheduled to make a brief speech and Weeks had a replica of the flag of the secretary of commerce to present to Hoover.

One outsider invited was Herbert Hoover Jr., 51, who was sworn in Monday as undersecretary of state, with his father looking on.

Stowaway Sealed in Ship's Hold

NEW YORK (AP)—A young stowaway, who lived in hiding for 11 days without food or water in order to get to America, was headed for a return trip to Germany today.

Immigration authorities seized 18-year-old Alfred Oestmann after he was discovered in the sealed hold of the German freighter Barenstein Tuesday.

Astonished seamen watched Oestmann crawl from the hold, which had been sealed when the Barenstein left Bremen Sept. 24. The hold was not supposed to be opened until the ship reaches Baltimore next week, but a seaman lifted the hatch after docking in Brooklyn to get some rope he remembered was stowed there.

Dirty and dazed by the sunlight, Oestmann collapsed weakly on the deck. His ordeal had reduced his normal 150 pounds to 90. Seamen on the freighter said the youth would have died had the hold remained closed until reaching Baltimore.

Immigration officials scheduled his return to Germany on a ship sailing today.

Brother, Sister Reunited After A Half Century

GRAND MOUND, Iowa. (AP) — An 84-year-old retired farmer and his sister, 71, have ended a 52-year separation.

They are Hans Henningsen of Grand Mound and Mrs. Lottie Verniest of Rock Island, Ill. For 27 of the 52 years they lived only 25 miles apart without knowing they were so close.

Hans and Lottie had last seen each other in Germany when Hans left for America in 1902.

Lottie stayed in Germany until 1926, when she settled in Davenport, Iowa, with her husband. She didn't know Hans, with whom she hadn't corresponded, lived only 25 miles away in Grand Mound.

Mrs. Verniest moved to nearby Rock Island in 1937.

A short time ago Herman Johansen, a fellow church member in Rock Island, told her that his sister's husband was named Hans Henningsen.

An exchange of letters and childhood pictures brought about a reunion in Grand Mound Sunday.

Industry and Atomic Power

Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, a high official of the Atomic Energy Commission, has chided American industry for failing to show more spunk in pushing atomic power development.

If industry is as aggressive and enterprising as we think, he is asking, why has it not come up with some plans for commercial power reactors?

Industry yelped for years that the government's total monopoly in the field of atomic energy was holding back peacetime progress. It said that it wanted in on the field, and asked congress to ease the restrictions.

This was done, and rightly so, in the new atomic energy act. Industry now is permitted to own and run atomic facilities, under government license. But, according to Dr. Hafstad at least, the results have been most disappointing.

* * *

He says there's a crying need for privately financed research reactors, in which to perfect an atomic fuel. But up until now, the scientist charges, "No one in the United States has had the initiative to design and build and finance" such a reactor.

A commercial atomic power plant is currently under construction at Shippingport, Pa. The plant is due for completion in 1957. But this is a joint project of the AEC, the Duquesne Light company and Westinghouse Electric with more than half the bill to be paid by the U. S. government.

Scientists seem in agreement that new atomic reactors which turn out cheap electrical power can, and will, be developed. But the way things look at the moment, private business is sitting back and waiting for Uncle Sam to do it.

* * *

Sooner or later he will. When that day finally comes, however, the nation's private business concerns may find themselves barred from the field. For as Dr. Hafstad correctly warns, programs to bring them in would be open to valid "giveaway charges."

The challenge is clear and important—and the evidence in at the present is that business is failing to meet it. Or to go back to Dr. Hafstad again:

"If we can solve all the really difficult problems by use of ten thousand dollar government brains, then what are all the high-priced vice presidents in industry doing?"

It seems, to us, an excellent question. And if industry has a rebuttal, we are more than anxious to hear it.

Wasting Talent

Speaking of brains and business firms (and this isn't Anti-Industry Day), a onetime professional teacher recently made a provocative speech which can stand a bit of repeating.

Psychologist E. L. Stromberg, who now is employed in industry, thinks that most of our business concerns are foolishly wasting much of their talent. Many intelligent workers, he says, are barred from responsible jobs—jobs they could easily handle—simply because they did not go to college.

Fully half of our population, he says, is brainy enough to go through college—but only a small percentage has actually had the chance. Yet "company policy" often assumes that, unless a man has a sheepskin, "creative thinking and problem solving" both are beyond his power.

In the viewpoint of Dr. Stromberg: "This waste of brain power is one of the great detriments from which management needs to free itself by recognizing that maturity, experience and growing knowledge exist in every man—not alone in the college man."

That sentence is quite a mouthful, but it still makes plenty of sense. We are all for more education, and so is ex-teacher Stromberg. And there surely are millions of jobs which demand a specialized training that can only be had in a college.

But making the sheepskin a fetish is a costly—and stupid—mistake.

Is Your Marriage Dull? Ask Yourself These Questions

Marriages don't grow dull. But husbands and wives may. Any time either or both partners in a marriage get to thinking that their life together is pretty dull it is high time for a few searching questions.

One. In the past six months have we entertained in our home anyone outside our own little "crowd"?

Two. In the past month has either of us read a book worth recommending to the other for something more than a means of killing an evening?

Three. Are we working toward any definite goal at the present time that both of us think is important?

Four. In the past year have we done anything to our home to make it more livable or more attractive?

Five. Do we have more friends than we had five years ago?

ARE YOU SEEING TOO MUCH OF EACH OTHER?

Six. When there is a last-minute chance to do something interesting do we whiz around and get going instead of deciding that it's too much trouble or there isn't time to get ready or some other such wishy-washy excuse?

Seven. Do we follow up the gestures of friendliness and hospitality that are directed our way or simply accept invitations without returning them and then wonder why no one invites us out any more?

Eight. Do we ever surprise each other by anything we do or say?

Nine. Do we willingly let each other do things on our own part of the time, instead of thinking we are completely dependent on each other for our interests and amusements?

Ten. Do we usually have plenty to talk about at the end of the day because we know how to look on life as an adventure and how to enjoy small pleasures?

Most smoking manners are the same for men and women. However, one difference is that while a man may smoke while walking along a city street, it is still considered in very bad taste for a woman to do so.

The Doctor Says:

Acne Very Seldom Leaves Permanent Scars on Victims

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

A mother writes that her teenage son who is a senior in high school has trouble with pimples on his face, arms, chest and back which has so embarrassed him that he does not want to go out. This is typical of thousands, perhaps hundreds of thousands, and is fully as important because of its psychological and emotional affect on the sensitive adolescent as because of the physical ailment.

Furthermore acne or adloescent pimples generally comes at a time when youngsters are at the peak of their sensitivity concerning personal appearance. The attitude of friends of the same age, and particularly those of the opposite sex, is terrifically important and the shrinking from social contacts which severe acne so often brings greatly adds to the difficulty of normal development and social ease.

Only a small proportion of those afflicted with acne develop permanent scarring but the fear is always present. Not only is there the usually unnecessary fear of permanent scarring of the face, but the pimples themselves produce an excessive shyness and self-consciousness. Some develop a permanent inferiority complex as a result of acne.

Acne prefers the face, neck, upper part of the chest and shoulders. The pimple usually starts as a reddish lump which is slightly tender to touch. It often develops into a "white head" which actually consists of a mixture of pus, germs, skin oil, and destroyed tissue cells.

In the milder cases, the pimples are spaced rather widely apart and are near the surface. In more severe cases they are closer together, break out more frequently and burrow deeper into the skin. When a white head forms the top of the pustule finally breaks open, the pus escapes, a crust forms and healing takes place. If the pustule has been large and deep a permanent scar may be left, though this is fortunately the exception.

Infection alone almost certainly does not explain the development of acne. Diet almost certainly plays a part. Many, if not most, adolescents have a craving for sweets and sweets almost always make acne worse.

A special effort should be made to overcome the self-consciousness caused by pimples. Every boy and girl should force himself or herself to take part in social functions and ignore any remarks which might be made

In addition to seeking proper medical advice AND FOLLOWING IT, the condition should be ignored so far as going to or staying away from social events is concerned. If permanent scarring does occur it may be possible with new methods such as the steel brush or sandpapering to greatly improve the appearance of the skin.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)— Movies Without Popcorn: Screens are getting bigger in Hollywood, but the costumes on movie queens are getting smaller.

Lana Turner is wearing what seems to be little more than some beads and shiny fabric in postage stamp sizes in the big pagan temple scene for MGM's "The Prodigal." She's playing a goddess of love in ancient Damascus and is followed by a bevy of scantily clad beauties.

Extras garbed in Biblical raiment watch Lana as she speaks to Louis Calhern, playing an evil priest. Then she commands George Rothbottom, a former UCLA grid player turned actor, to throw himself in a fiery pit at her feet.

The gent leaps into the flames and the extras register proper degrees of horror. What moviegoers who see this scene won't know is that the entire lavish set has been built on the big MGM stage that holds an aquatic tank.

Rothbottom is actually diving into a cool, refreshing "fire" — Esther Williams' swimming pool.

THE BEAT IS zippy at Columbia where Janet Leigh and Betty Garrett are before the camera in the musical version of "My Sister Eileen." It's the "If They Can Kill 'Em, We Can Kill 'Em, Too" number that comes at the beginning of the film.

It's a combination of hillbilly crooning, close harmony and finally Betty goes into an Al Jolson impersonation.

A visitor to the set is Larry Parks, husband of Betty, who quietly watches his wife go through the gestures that made him a star in "The Jolson Story" and "Jolson Sings Again."

Sometimes there's more drama on the set than in the script.

* * *

Marlon Brando, padded and beaked to resemble Napoleon, is having a high time of it with Jean Simmons, his costar, on the big stage at Fox that houses the set of "Desiree."

While Director Henry Koster studies the angle at which he will shoot Marlon and Jean against the background of Napoleon's Palace in Paris, Marlon kicks off his shoes, shadow boxes with the make-up man and playfully slings the protesting Jean onto his back.

Finally Koster is ready to shoot the scene in which Napoleon is taught to waltz by Desiree. When it is over, Marlon, still in his fey mood, goes over to a candelabrum and gives an imitation of a famous TV pianist.

Marlon Brando impersonating Napoleon may be an eyebrow raiser, but Napoleon impersonating Liberace is blood congealing!

CURLEY, LAURIE, Ado Annie and all the other characters who made the Broadway production of "Oklahoma!" a stage bonanza, are being magic-lanterned in the Todd-A-O BIG, BIG screen version.

I stand on the sidelines as the stars and ballet members rehearse the title song and gesture appropriately as the playback machine blares out:

"Oh-h-h, Oklahoma, where the winds comes sweeping down the plain."

Scattered among te ensemble are Gordon MacRae, newcomer Shirley Jones, Gene Nelson, Gloria Grahame (in dark glasses), Charlotte Greenwood, James Whitmore and Jay C. Flippen.

The great hunk of Americana has been in production for several months, cast members point out, and all of them find themselves saying "git" and "ain't" and "thar" after work hours.

"In fact," Gene Nelson tells me, "we're thinking of hiring Ronald Colman to teach us English again after the picture's over."

IT'S USUALLY GIRLS, girls, girls on a Bob Hope musical set but now it's kids, kids—big kids and little kids, fat kids and skinny kids.

The movie is the film biography of vaudeville star Eddie Foy titled, "Eddie Foy and the Seven Little Foys." Seven kids are emoting in almost every scene with Hope and for every kid there's a stand-in.

That's 14 kids swarming in and out of scenes and it looks like a pro game with the two-platoon system.

But to Bob Hope it looks like something else.

By WESTBROOK PEBLER
(Copyright, 1954, Kink Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW YORK—The Roosevelt-Lehman Democratic party, which is non-nationalist at least and anti-nationalist in its extremes, has nominated Averell Harriman for governor of New York. He will not be elected because Senator Irving Ives, the Republican nominee, is a party liner, which means that he throws in with Eisenhower and the rest of the less-and-less American Republican organization. Thus he nullifies Harriman's advantage. You may call Ives a nationalist if you will, but when you say that smile!

Foreign policy should be no issue in a state election but nationalism, or patriotism, has become a handicap in the state, and especially in the city, of New York. It is called isolationism and is held to be a composition of bigotry and other undefined but abhorrent faults. The Republicans bow to this blackmail.

Harriman is the son of a very rich father who never did anything for his fortune but deal in stocks. Averell is a figure in the developing jig-saw pattern of "Philip Dru: Administrator," the propheric political novel which Col. E. M. House, the "internationalist" political adventurer from Texas, conjured in 1911 and published anonymously.

Later, House admitted that he wrote this plan for total dictatorship long before Lenin and Trotsky, Mussolini and Hitler were heard of. House, like Harriman, was the idle, rich son of a rich father, an Englishman of Dutch "blood" who had profiteered as a blockade runner out of Galeston in the Civil War. The rich English clients of Colonel House's father also made money out of the cotton thus delivered to them at the risk and sacrifice of the lives of many Southern and British sailors on the ship. House, Senior, sat ashore with a marine glass and watched the blockade runners take their chances with the union patrol ships. Colonel House was pro-British in the First War but the essence of his philosophy was hatred of the Constitution of the United States. In Philip Dru, House fairly drooled his satisfaction over a bloody revolution which first smashed the American army and nullified the Constitution. He was an intimate advisor of Woodrow Wilson and F. D. Roosevelt.

The Federal Reserve System was one of the "reforms" projected in "Philip Dru."

Harriman's father, E. H. Harriman, was raised to fabulous riches by two individual banking patrons, both giants of the House of Kuhn-Loeb.

B. C. Forbes, a well-known acolyte of big business, wrote a book in 1917 called "Men Who Are Making America" in which he lauded in extravagant terms a roster of bankers and industrialists. They included the elder Morgan, Carnegie, Frick, Paul M. Warburg and Jacob H. Schiff. These last two were born in Germany and trained in the great financial center of Hamburg. In the United States they married daughters of Solomon Loeb, of Kuhn-Loeb, and became great world powers.

In his Warburg biography, Forbes wrote that "a party of the nation's greatest bankers stole out of New York in a private car, hied to an island deserted by all but a few servants and there lived a full week under such rigid secrecy that the name of not one of them was mentioned lest the servitors learn their identity and disclose to the world this historic episode in American finance." This "historic episode" was the preparation of the "famous Aldrich currency report." Forbes says Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, the father of the late Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, jr., was the real author, although Warburg was widely suspected and noisily berated. Other participants were Henry P. Davidson, Frank Vanderlip and A. Piatt Andrew. The meeting place was Jeky Islandd, Ga. These mighty masters of man "were landed in a small boat."

In the Schiff biography, Forbes wrote: "When Edward Harriman, the stock exchange broker, began to dabble in railroad properties he had neither experience nor capital. But he had almost infallible judgment, the vision of a statesman . . . Jacob H. Schiff was one of the first financiers to recognize that a new railroad Napoleon was entering the arena.

"Union Pacific was a battered, bankrupt, decrepit stretch of rust. Few capitalists had faith in its possibilities. But Mr. Schiff's faith in the future of the United States was as strong then as it is today and he took up the reorganizing of Union Pacific. Harriman came knocking at the door and discerning in him a genius Mr. Schiff extended the prestige and resources of Kuhn-Loeb and Co."

Harriman and the bankers acquired enormous quantities of shares "at a song." Within 10 years it "netted a fortune for all its large holders." It later paid an annual dividend equal to the original cost.

"Southern-Pacific and other railroads were corralled later," Forbes continued. The Harriman-Kuhn-Loeb combination became "the most powerful, the most aggressive and the most successful America had ever known." Harriman made more than $10 million a year in the latter part of his life free of income tax. He left more than $70 million free of estate tax when he died in 1909. Schiff's wealth was "estimated" at little less.

In the Warburg biography, Forbes wrote that "the strokes that followed one another" in the Harriman developments, were "so bold, daring and original" that "they caused the country to gasp."

With this massive inherited fortune, Averell Harriman apparently took a lavish, aggressive part in lend-lease, especially in Russia where he was "administrator," a word that Roosevelt loved, as we shall see in further chapters of this secret history of the stealthy realization of House's malevolent dream.

Altogether, the American people including men fighting the enemy, and their families at home, gave $11 billion worth of lend-lease to Russia alone. Not a dime of this ever came back nor ever will.

Sweaters Need Special Care

Slip-on and cardigan sweaters are as popular as ever this year and the man-made fibers are stealing the spotlight.

Sweaters made from these fibers need little care, and the care they do need is simple, says Jane Werden, clothing specialist at the University of Illinois. A little attention goes a long way, and you'll find it easy to keep the garments looking as beautiful as they were the day you bought them.

Keep sweaters folded neatly in a drawer. Never, never hang them on hangers. After each wearing, air them before you put them away.

When you put on a slip-on, put your arms through the sleeves and gently ease the garment over your head. If it doesn't slip easily over your head, pull it gently from the neckline, but never tug.

Be careful not to snag your sweaters with buckles, belts, jewelry or anything that has rough or sharp surfaces, not just when you're wearing them, but whenever you handle them.

Sometimes the neck of a sweater may stretch. If it does, try running two or three rows of elastic thread through the neck ribbing.

Before washing a sweater, draw the outline of it on paper so that you can block it to that size after washing. Wash in lukewarm water with a synthetic detergent or mild soap. Knead gently, but do not rub. Rinse well in lukewarm water, and roll in a Turkish towel to absorb excess moisture. Then place on a flat surface, pull gently into shape, and let dry. It's a good idea to dry sweaters out of direct sunlight or away from high heat.

Moths will not attack sweaters made of the man-made fibers. But those of wool need protection. And don't forget: Sweaters that are only part wool need just as much protection as those that are all wool.

Herbst, Ullensvang Wedding

Franklin Grove Bride in Gown Of Lace, Tulle

Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Leon P. Ullensvang, are residing in Evanston where both are seniors at Northwestern university. The First Presbyterian church, Franklin Grove, was the setting for their beautiful afternoon wedding, Sept. 19.

Mrs. Ullensvang is the former Carolyn Celia Herbst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Herbst, Franklin Grove, and Leon is the son of the L. J. Ullensvangs, Amboy.

Rev. H. C. Montanus of Morris performed the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with huckleberry foliage and two arrangements of white gladioli.

Nuptial Music

A nuptial prelude by Miss Lou Ann Emmons, Franklin Grove, preceded the ceremony and Mrs. William Anderson, Franklin Grove, sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer." Rev. Montanus sang "At Dawning."

For her 3:30 o'clock wedding, Carolyn was lovely in a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle designed with a scalloped Chantilly lace high collar and nylon yoke. The lace basque bodice was embroidered with irridescent sequins and the long fitted sleeves tapered into points. The bouffant, nylon tulle skirt had a scalloped lace peplum embroidered with iridescent sequins. Carolyn was given in marriage by her father.

The bride's French illusion finger-tip veil was attached to an iridescent sequin and pearl small queen's crown. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and ivy centered with a white orchid.

Bride's Attendants

Miss Margaret Pitzer, Evanston, a college friend, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Herbert Gerdes, Walnut, bridesmaid. Their formal frocks of pure silk were of a coralbell shade designed with Spencer jackets and Elizabethan collars. The waltz length princess line gowns had scalloped necklines bordered with matching velvet bands.

The bride's attendants wore headdresses of velvet forget-me-nots in a crown design and graced with small face veils that were appliqued with the forget-me-nots. They carried crescent bouquets of Champagne colored Fuji mums edged with ivy and green ribbon.

William S. Herbst, Peoria, brother of the bride, served as best man and William Johnston, Bertha, Minn., fraternity brother of the bridegroom, was groomsman. Jack Holt and Otto Stephanitch, Amboy, ushered. Larry Ullenvang, Amboy, brother of the bridegroom, was the candle lighter.

Flower Girl

Ruth Scharpf, Franklin Grove, as flower girl was attired in a short length dress of white nylon trimmed with coralbelle bows. She carried a basket of rose petals and wore a halo of matching flowers.

The bride's mother wore a navy net over taffeta dress trimmed with sequins. Her accessories matched her gown and her corsage was of pink Fuji mums. The bridegroom's mother wore brown accessories and a bronze chrysanthemum corsage with her gold silk dress.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors where pink roses, a gift to the bride, were used in decoration. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with flowers and encircled with a huckleberry base.

Reception Assistants

Mrs. Albert Gross, Franklin Grove, was hostess for the reception. Mrs. James McMillion, Franklin Grove, served the cake; Miss Jule Samuelson, Rockford, was at the coffee service and Miss Ann Maxfield, Niagara Falls, served the punch. Assisting were: Miss Judy Stultz, Whitewater, Wis.; Mrs. Raymond Baird, Chicago; Miss Julie Ortgieson, Amboy; Mrs. Bernard Gerdes, Dixon, and Mrs. Kenneth Sandrock, Franklin Grove.

Miss Charlotte Moser, DeKalb, had the guest book, and Miss Beverly Watson, Franklin Grove, and Mrs. George Leonard, Ashton, had charge of the gifts.

When the newlyweds departed for their wedding trip the bride donned a black wool dress and wore the white orchid from her bouquet.

A 1951 graduate of Franklin Grove high school, the bride is in her senior year in the School of Speech at Northwestern. She is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. The bridegroom, a 1951 graduate of Amboy high school, is a senior in the School of Commerce at Northwestern. His fraternity is Kappa Sigma.

The MATURE PARENT

BULLIES NEED THE UNEXPECTED, NOT AWE OF THEIR VIOLENCE

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. P.'s six-year-old son Paul is being terrorized by a bully who lives down the street.

Some time ago, a missile flung by the bully sent Paul to the hospital. Protest resulted in threats by the bully's family and defense of his action.

Then another stone was thrown at Paul as he rode his new tricycle past the bully's house. Under the momentum of her angry fear, Mrs. P. sat down and wrote me:

"What can I do? This boy's mother is a member of my club. We have just bought our home. I don't want the neighborhood to think of me as a trouble-maker. . . ."

If a bully faced me with Mrs. P.'s problem, I would do this:

I would take my son by the hand and saunter over to the bully's house. There, I would knock at his mother's door. When she came, I would ask her to call him.

Then to the bully and his mother, I would say, "In a minute or so, Paul and I are going to walk past your house. No stone will be flung at us. No stone will be thrown at us now or any other time from this moment on."

Then I would say, "Good morning," and with my child, walk past the bully's house.

If, after this, a stone were thrown, I would call the police. I would ask for a police officer to accompany me and Paul as we walked again past the bully's house.

I would act in this way, because I am more interested in children than in what neighborhoods think of me.

And because of this, I have a certain tenderness for the neglected children who have been infected with such hate and fear of themselves that they must attack us in despair of receiving anything but our angry terror in return.

Experience has taught me that such children need the unexpected. So instead of showing myself awed by the violence which frightens them, I have learned to refuse them awe.

For as they fling their stones, I can hear them cry, "Stop me, please. Nobody has ever loved me enough to stop me. Lend me your strength."

Thus, in Mrs. P.'s shoes, I'd have to put an end to the bully's attack.

After time has passed, I should expect him to come calling. When he came swaggering up my front porch, I would not hide my child nor slam the door in his face. I would invite him in.

We would not discuss stones or police officers. I would have cold milk and cookies ready for discussion, along with awareness that my guest had come for another portion of grownup strength.

The Alvah Drew family entertained 34 guests Sunday at a ham barbecue and bean hole dinner at "Belle Acres," the woodland site of their future home on Plum Hollow road.

Guests were six other families who have been associated together in Cub Scout and Boy Scout work for many years. This is the fifth autumn that they have come together for an all-day picnic and outing when they bury the pots of beans in a pit filled with hot coals, cover them with earth and canvas and "forget" them until time to eat. A big ham was barbecued all day on a spit over a pit full of hickory coals. Other picnic foods completed the menu.

The "Scouters" who enjoyed the affair were the Harrison Van Hornes, Rock Falls; the Elroy Polzins, the Arthur Dotys and Bob Dir, all of Sterling; the Allen Boyds, Elwin Bellers and John Browns, all of Dixon.

Another family belonging to this group, the Lew Kehrs, were unable to attend because of a scouting exposition in Effingham, where they now reside. Mr. Kehr is the former Sauk district Boy Scout field executive.

A feature of the dinner was the presentation of a birthday cake by Mrs. Vivian Brown to Mr. Drew, who was celebrating his birthday anniversary on Sunday.

CHICAGO (AP)—Michael J. Howlett, campaign manager for Sen. Paul Douglas, said today the Democratic senator will meet his Republican opponent, Joseph T. Meek in debate or discussion six times between today and election day, Nov. 2.

Dirksen Says Censure Act 'Unmerited'

NEW YORK (AP)— Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill) believes the recent Watkins commtitee recommendation to censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was "unmerited."

In an interview in the current issue of Newsweek magazine, Dirksen said, "A technical right to revive these charges may exist, but surely no moral right."

It was "simply stirring old bones" to charge McCarthy was in contempt of a 1951-52 Senate committee which tried to dig into his affairs, Dirksen said.

"As to the alleged abuse of Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, if you grant that Joe was guilty of intemperate remarks, these must be considered against the background of provocation."

Expect Dock Strike Will End Today

NEW YORK (AP)—A one-day-old strike that stopped all cargo operations in the vast port of New York—except on military piers—was expected to end today.

Top officers of the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) have agreed to a peace formula worked out with federal mediators. Full union approval of the pact, however, must await a meeting of the wage scale committee scheduled for later today.

Terms of the agreement were announced by Federal Mediator John Andrew Burke after a 2½-hour talk Tuesday night with union leaders and representatives of the New York Shipping Assn.

The settlement included payment of an 8-cent-hourly wage boost retroactive to Oct. 1, 1953, which employers estimate will cost about four million dollars. In turn, the union would pledge not to strike again for 45 days while attempts are made to negotiate a new contract.

The wage increase would bring longshoremen's pay up to $2.35 an hour.

Draft Board Quits Over GIs Sentence

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP)—This west Texas city's draft board chairman has resigned because he does not like the life prison sentence meted out to Cpl. Claude Bachelor.

Batchelor, 22, of Kermit, Tex., was convicted by a court-martial at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., last week on charges of collaborating with the enemy and informing on fellow POW's while a captive of the Chinese Reds in Korea.

Draft Board Chairman H. W. Wright said he did not condone collaboration with the Communists but that he thought "brainwashing" and Batchelor's youth should have "been considered."

Batchelor was one of 23 Americans who chose to stay with the Reds after the Korean armistice. Later he and Cpl. Edward Dickenson of Crackers Neck, Va., changed their minds and returned to United Nations control.

Dickenson was tried on charges similar to those against Batchelor and given 10 years in prison at hard labor. He was a prosecution witness against the Texan.

Wright made public Tuesday a letter of resignation he sent to Paul Wakefield, state Selective Service director, in Austin, Tex., at said in part:

"My conscience will not let me be a part of drafting young men who might later be subject to the severe punishment that was rendered Cpl. Claude Batchelor.

"Although I cannot tolerate anyone who could collaborate with Communists, I am still of the opinion that the court did not take into consideration that this boy was only 16 years old when he entered military service and that you and I know that a large per cent of the older men could not stand up under the severe punishment and brain washing that the Communists are able to force upon their prisoners."

O. B. Gerlach and Sons was the only other bidder for the coal contract. That firm bid $12 a ton for the Nursing Home and $11.55 a ton for the courthouse.

The contracts will be awarded Thursday during the Board of Supervisors regular monthly meeting.

working when he was nine years old and quit school after finishing the fifth grade. He admitted serving nine months in the Missouri State Training School when he was caught riding in a stolen car and told the court he spent three additional months there for fighting.

Sheriff John Stouffer testified Smedley had been a model prisoner and had aided the authorities in solving the buglary by involving his companions in the breakin. Stouffer went on to say he would recommend every possible "break" for Smedley.

Judge Bracken said he would continue the arraignment until he had chance to think over the request. If put on probation, Smedley said he would join his parents in Michigan and find a job.

Pleads Guilty

Ray William Wilson, 19, Dixon, pleaded guilty to the Grand Jury indictment for auto larceny but requested probation. Judge Bracken set Wilson's hearing for Oct. 22.

Wilson was arrested by Dixon police while in possession of a stolen car Sept. 14. Wilson only recently was released from serving a year sentence in Vandalia after being convicted of tampering with a motor vehicle.

State's Atty. James Bales requested that Edwin W. Merrick, probation officer, not be allowed to testify on Wilson's behalf because he has been representing Wilson until time of his arraignment and was present at the preliminary hearing. Judge Bracken said he would appoint another probation officer to testify on the probation request.

The arraignment of William C. Pratt, Dixon, who was indicted for larceny, was continued until Oct. 22.

Pratt is charged with the theft of $972 worth of iron and steel from the Gerdes rock quarry, Nelson township, between May 9 and 11. He is free on $2,500 bond.

Lanark Youth Gets 3-to-10 Prison Term

OREGON —(Special)— Ogle Circuit Court Judge Leon A. Zick today sentenced a Lanark youth, William Hoover, 20, to a term of three to 10 years after he pleaded guilty to larceny and burglary charges.

Hoover and Russell Rife, 18, also Lanark, were arrested in connection with the theft of cash and liquor from the El Rancho Club, Adeline.

Hoover appeared before Judge Zick in Carroll Circuit Court Tuesday and was sentenced to three to 10 years on an armed robbery count. The two sentences will run concurrently. He will be sent to Stateville Penitentiary, where a welfare board will determine the institution in which he will be confined.

Rife was assigned an attorney by Judge Zick today. He is to enter his plea Oct. 14.

Three other men also were assigned attorneys, and are scheduled to enter pleas Oct. 14.

They are John Bird, 47, Rochelle, charged with aggravated assault and assault with intent to maim; Robert Burright, 24, Rochelle, indicted for burglary and larceny; and Frank Leisson, 46, Adeline, charged with rape and assault with intent to commit rape.

Otto Stover, 54, Haldane, also appeared in court, and a hearing was set for Oct. 14. He is charged with larceny.

Wife Forgives Lost Weekend; Drops Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A wife has forgiven her husband for what he calls his $20,000 "lost weekend" and they're back together again.

Charles W. Entrekin, 27, a painting contractor, testified in Superior Court Tuesday that he was seized with a sudden impulse to go off on a spending spree after his wife sued him for divorce three weeks ago, alleging cruelty.

"I was nervous and under a severe strain," he said.

Entrekin testified he drove to San Francisco with $20,000 in cash and can't remember what happened to the money.

After the hearing on temporary support Entrekin and his wife, Ruby, 28, announced that had become reconciled. Mrs. Entrekin said he wouldn't ask her husband to explain his weekend.

Pupils Fail To Resolve Race Issue

By The Associated Press

A pupils' mass meeting at Anacostia High School in Washington ended in confusion today with little accomplished toward ending protests of mixing whites and Negroes in classrooms.

Some 700 to 800 gathered in the athletic stadium of Anacostia High and heard pleas that they go back to school while their leaders met with school authorities to discuss the situation.

They first reached a decision that a committee of pupils would meet with Acting Principal Eugene Griffith. But then howls came from some of the youngsters who have been striking over the integration program. The session broke up with the strikers saying "no" to Griffith's plea for the conference.

Griffith told those who wanted to attend classes to come in and the others to go home.

At other Washington schools where disorders and demonstrations have occurred in recent days the tension eased.

Army Officer Wins Review Of Conviction

CHICAGO (AP) — Lt. George C. Schreiber has won a review of his murder conviction by a Korean court-martial.

Atty. Gen. Latham Castle said Tuesday he has received formal notice from Washington that his petition for a review for the former school teacher of suburban Brookfield has been granted.

Castle entered the case as a special defense counsel for Schreiber at the direction of Gov. William G. Stratton.

Schreiber, one of three men accused of killing a Korean civilian at an ammunition dump in 1952, is serving a five year prison term at the disciplinary barracks in Camp Cooke, Calif. The sentence was reduced from life imprisonment, dismissal from service and forfeiture of all pay and allowances — the original sentence by the court-martial.

Grenville Beardsley, assistant to Castle, said, "We are convinced that Lt. Schreiber was framed and feel certain we shall prove this in the review."

Man Fired From Job Shoots His Wife and Self

BOONSBORO, Md. (AP)—An aircraft factory worker who had been fired from the plant where his wife also was working shot his wife to death Tuesday and then turned the gun on himself while his children looked on.

Dr. Samuel R. Wells, Washington County medical examiner, termed the death of 38-year-old Mrs. Margaret Catherine O'Neal murder, and that of her 42-year-old husband Fred suicide.

State Trooper Clyde Tucker said Mrs. O'Neal had just returned from work at the Fairchild aircraft plant in Hagerstown aend was in the kitchen with one of her five children preparing supper.

Then, Tucker said:

O'Neal shot his wife with a single-barrel shotgun. She ran through the house and dropped dead on the front porch, before her other children.

O'Neal put the gun muzzle in his mouth and pulled the trigger.

Tucker said the children, who range in age up to 19, told him their father and mother quarreled frequently. O'Neal was fired from his job for drinking, Tucker said.

Questions and Answers About the Lee County Health Department

Questions about the Lee County Health Department may be mailed to "Health Department Facts," P. O. Box 276, Dixon, Illinois. All questions must be signed, but no names will be published. All legitimate questions will be answered in this column, appearing each Tuesday in the Dixon Evening Telegraph.

* * *

Q—Do I understand that I must vote "AGAINST" the proposition on Nov. 1 in order to SAVE the Health Department?

A—Yes. The first choice on the special ballot reads, "For the discontinuance of the County Health Department." The second choice reads, "Against the discontinuance of the County Health Department." To register your wish to save the Health Department, you must mark the second choice, voting "Against" the proposition on the ballot.

* * *

Q—Does the State of Illinois help to pay for the cost of operating our Health Department? If so, how?

A—Yes. The State will pay $1.00 for every $3.00 raised by county taxes. This serves well to reduce the "per capita" cost to our county taxpayers of running their County Health Department. (Per capita cost last year was 70 cents.)

* * *

Q—If, as indicated in an earlier Telegraph article, 87 per cent of the people voted for establishment of our original Health Department, why is it now necessary for another vote on whether to discontinue that department?

A—The right of referendum (the bringing of a matter to a public vote) is a Constitutional right. A minority of the Lee County board of supervisors expressed a wish to discontinue the Health Department, a few suggesting that it be replaced with a visiting nurse service. To obtain the public's views on this suggestion, petitions were circulated asking for a referendum vote. (Many of the persons signing this petition are actually in favor of the continuance of the Health Department but, like the majority of the county supervisors, think that bringing the matter to a vote should settle the issue once and for all.)

* * *

Q—Why isn't the suggestion that we substitute a visiting nurse service for our Health Department a practical suggestion?

A—It is not practical for several reasons:

1. It is reliably estimated that a permanent staff of at least seven visiting nurses would be required to adequately serve the county in the absence of a Health Department. The minimum annual cost of having these nurses (registered nurses, of necessity) is conservatively figured at $25,000 year—practically as much as the actual cost in county funds of operating the entire Health Department for the past year.

2. We would receive no State financial help of the kind mentioned earlier in this column if we have no official Health Department.

3. There are many functions of Public Health which Nurses, working alone, could not hope to provide for the county. These include the regular duties of our present sanitary engineer and our full-time dentist. Also, nurses do not have the legal authority to enforce public health laws.

4. Home care by visiting nurses is only one part of the vast range of services performed by a county health department. To neglect the other important phases is to invite a lower standard of Public Health.

* * *

Q—I understand that many speeches are being made throughout the county in favor of keeping our Health Department—also that there is a considerable amount of mailing and personal contact work. Is all this being financed by our County Health Department?

A—Absolutely not! This work is being sponsored by an independent citizens committee composed of people who believe in higher public health standards and are unwilling to lose the services of our Health Department. The speakers are volunteers who are not paid for their time or their expenses. The cost of postage, printing, etc., is borne by contributions from interested citizens and organizations. No Lee County Health Department funds are being spent in the current campaign.

* * *

Q—Specifically what services are performed for the county by the Health Department; i.e., what work do they do?

A—Previous articles in the Telegraph have outlined some of these services. Future special articles will outline other services. Starting today, there will appear in this newspaper a weekly summary of the work done by Health Department personnel. You will find it represents a full schedule for every member of the staff.

Medics Organize Against Poisons

Swallowing of Household Materials Common Danger

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP)— A new medical effort is being organized against a potential danger in your own home—the accidental poisoning of children by swallowing common household materials like furniture polish and bleaching agents.

Spearheaded by a group of Chicago doctors who have set up a "poisoning control center," similar projects are operating or being developed in Boston, Cincinnati, New York, Phoenix and Washington, D. C., the American Academy of Pediatrics was told today.

The idea is to have a systematic, centrally controlled network within a city whereby quickest action can be taken in treating a poisoned child.

Dr. Edward Press of the University of Illinois and several associates described the Chicago program in a scientific exhibit at the AP's 23rd annual meeting.

They said the commonest substances swallowed among 375 children treated for poisoning in the last year in Chicago were aspirin, petroleum products such as kerosene; rodent killers and insecticides; bleaching agents, and turpentine.

With the Chicago Board of Health acting as a clearing house for information and follow-up action, some 20 hospitals in the Chicago area have been supplied with an 80-page manual outlining poisonous constituents of various household materials and the most recent approved methods of treatment.

Individual doctors who might be house-called on a poison case can call a "Poison Control Committee" member at the Board of Health or one of the participating hospitals if he needs help.

New Process

PATERSON, N. J. (AP) — A refugee scientist, Dr. Ernest S. Nossen, has perfected a new process for extracting high grade manganese from low grade ore. Manganese is used in making steel. In the Nossen process, manganese is dissolved out of ore with the use of nitric acid. The acid can be recovered and used again.

Bit Too Much

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Patrolman John Patillo had a double complaint for the woman. As he walked up to the house to advise her the dog had nipped someone and must be penned up for 14 days, the white fluffy little dog pranced up. Bit Patrolman Patillo, too.

No Profit

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP) — Solicitor (State's attorney) James M. Mann complained about the high cost of extradition.

He got a bill from Florida in the case of a prisoner returned here from that state. The cost: $5 for the state of Florida and about $19 for the sheriff who handled the case.

When this state does the same for another state there's no charge.

Brick Bargain

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago has a bargain in bricks — two million of them— at a penny each.

They're not gold, but granite block and Needlebug bricks which cost the city 16 cents each 12 years ago. But the city doesn't need them because it uses asphalt and concrete paving so they are being sold for salvage. They weigh between 7 and 12 pounds each and are, says John Ward, city purchasing agent, virtually weatherproof.

British Navy Works on Sub Escape Method

GOSPORT, England (AP) — The British Navy is working on a new system of escape from crashed submarines—just hold your breath, open a hatch and jump out.

Navy experts demonstrating the new system here say the oxygen masks used in normal escape apparatus hold hidden dangers. Some recent submarine disasters, they say, showed men died from oxygen poisoning while trying to reach the surface.

The new scheme followed a tip-off from the navy's "frogmen" divers. They pointed out that no man with air in his lungs could drown on his way to the surface from medium depths because pressure gradually forces the air out and makes it physically impossible to breath in.

Wisconsin Defense Faces Moegle Saturday

Alan Ameche Will Pace Wisconsin

Badgers Have Two Quarterbacks, Also In Miller, Haluska

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten's kick for regional television appears out of bounds these days. Three conference teams have already appeared on the national screen with a fourth and possibly the best coming up.

Two weeks ago TV fans saw Iowa whip Michigan State. Last week Stanford humbled Illinois and on Saturday's menu is the Wisconsin-Rice encounter.

Not only will the TV-viewer see a Big Ten favorite up against the Southwest Conference defending cochampion and Cotton Bowl victor, but shaping up is a contest of individuals:

Wisconsin's Alan (The Horse) Ameche vs. fabulous Dicky Moegle of Rice.

Hasn't Let Up Since

Moegle is the same youngster whose runs so infuriated Alabama in the Cotton Bowl last January that a 12th man got off the bench to tackle the Owl speedster when he was clear and away to a 95-yard touchdown jaunt.

Moegle hasn't let up since. Against Rice victims Florida and Cornell this year, he has averaged 13.7 yards in 16 carries. The first four times he got his hands on the ball against Cornell, he swept for touchdown runs of 18, 40, 10 and 78 yards.

Rice publicitor Bill Whitmore, telling the Chicago football writers about Moegle Tuesday, brought out that Dicky was quite a player even before the bowl game.

Badgers Have Ameche

"He was sixth in rushing nationally last year with 633 yards," said Whitmore. "Of course he was in the shadow of All America Kosse Johnson, our fullback last year. Johnson rushed for 944 yards but he had 73 more carries than Moegle."

Whitmore said he believes the Wisconsin game will be a matter of Rice offense against Wisconsin defense, qualifying that he wasn't selling the Badger offense short.

Wisconsin's answer, of course, is Ameche. But that's not all. Badger quarterbacks Jim Miller and Jim Haluska are passing at a .760 clip this season.

They've completed 19 out of 25 pitches and have had only one intercepted.

Only 8 Yards

Nevertheless, Ameche is Wisconsin's No. 1 threat. The Horse has picked up 224 yards in triumphs over Marquette and Michigan State. He made the only score of the day in the MSC game by ripping off 28 yards for a touchdown.

While Ameche was racking up 127 yards, Wisconsin held Michigan State to a net of eight rushing yards.

That defense, which stopped Leroy Bolden cold Saturday, is almost the same that put the crimp on Illinois star J. C. Caroline last year. Saturday, Moegle will get his chance to solve it.

Stanford Center Lineman of Week

By The Associated Press

Jerry Goldberg, 20-year-old Stanford senior center, was selected today as the first Associated Press "lineman of the week" for the 1954 football season.

Goldberg, a 60-minute man, played a major role in Stanford's surprise 12-2 victory over Illinois Saturday. He was mainly responsible for keeping Illinois touchdown twins, J. C. Caroline and Mickey Bates, bottled up.

Goldberg's selection followed the naming of Lenny Dawson, Purdue halfback, as the "back of the week" on Tuesday. Dawson fired four touchdown passes that led Purdue to a surprise victory over Notre Dame.

No Time for Gloating on Schedule Facing Purdue

Play Five of Top Teams In AP Poll

Tackle Duke Next; Also Meet Iowa, Wisconsin, OSU

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Purdue's big Boilermakers, getting ready to hammer at Duke Saturday, are only ankle deep in a schedule that leaves no time for gloating over last Saturday's 27-14 defeat of Notre Dame.

Five of the first 10 teams in this week's Associated Press ratings are signed up to play Purdue this season:

Notre Dame, No. 1 last week, now is No. 8. Dike is No. 6 one step back of the Boilermakers. On Oct. 16 Purdue travels to Wisconsin, ranked third in the country. It goes to fourth-ranked Iowa Nov. 6 and plays Ohio State, No. 10, in Lafayette Nov. 13.

Other Tough Ones

The Boilermakers also have assorted games with Michigan State, Illinois and Indiana, and already have beaten Missouri.

Coach Stu Holcomb told the boys Tuesday that Duke's backs are faster than last year, when the Blue Devils beat the Boilermakers at Durham, 20-14, on quarterback Jerry Barger's touchdown in the last 40 seconds.

He pointed out that Barger is still around and scored the first touchdown in Duke's 52-0 rout of Pennsylvania.

Dawson To Pass

Details of Purdue's game plans aren't public property but Holcomb probably will let "back of the week" Lenny Dawson throw a few passes. He has completed 18 of 29 in two games for eight touchdowns.

Duke has another sophomore, Buddy Bass, with a better passing percentage than Dawson. Bass has thrown one pass, against Pennsylvania, and end Sonny Sorrell caught it for 35 yards and a touchdown.

Purdue came out of the Notre Dame game in amazingly good physical condition. Bob Springer, junior end, suffered the only serious injury — a sprained ankle — and it may be well by Saturday.

DIFFERENT PITCH—Gene Conley, towering righthander for the Milwaukee Braves, sets sights on a basket during workout at a Cambridge, Mass., gym after signing a contract to play professional basketball with the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Association. (AP wirephoto)

Braves' Boss Fears Conley May Get Hurt

WELLESLEY, Mass. (AP)—Owner Lou Perini of the Milwaukee Braves says he'd "rather not" see pitcher Gene Conley play pro basketball with the Boston Celtics "on the theory he might jeopardize his great future as a baseball player."

Perini said Tuesday night that Conley "is not defying any Braves' order not to play basketball. I have nothing against basketball. It's a great sport, but the possibility of injury to a player is high." An injury might ruin Conley's baseball career."

Cubs Bring Up Two Rookies; Sox Drop One

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs today bought two young players from their Des Moines farm club and the White Sox assigned lefthanded pitcher Bob Cain outright to their Memphis farm.

Coming to the Cubs were righthander Hyman Cohen, 23, and first baseman Bob Speake, 24.

Cohen was the Western League's top pitcher this season, posting a 16-6 record and setting a league earned run record with 1.88. He had a 10-game winning streak during the campaign, pitched six shutouts and a one-hitter against Wichita Aug. 25. He is 6-5 and weighs 215.

Speake hit .265, including 21 doubles, 21 homers and 8 triples for 249 total bases, high for the team. He also led the team in walks, coaxing 90 off enemy pitchers, and drove in 82 runs.

Cain originally was obtained from Memphis by the White Sox in 1949 and after a 9-12 season went to Detroit in 1951 in a deal for hurler Sol Rogovin. In 1953 he had 4-10 for the St. Louis Browns.

Cain was signed by the Sox as a free agent on Aug. 15 and did not pitch a game for them.

No Offer Made For Indians Yet

Report Syndicate Would Pay 3 Million for Cleveland Club

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Cleveland industrialist has been hinting at a deal to buy the Cleveland Indians, but the baseball club management declares that no bona fide offer has been made.

Joseph E. Cole, president of the National Key Co., and a minor stockholder in the Indians, said Tuesday he heads a "fine, civic-minded group of men" seeking to buy the Tribe, and he added, "I only hope the premature publicity will not kill things."

"The men are interested in improving Cleveland baseball and financial considerations are secondary."

The club's president, Myron H. Wilson, issued a statement which read:

"At no time have we ever attemped to secure any offers for the sale of the ball club. Furthermore, we have never received a bona fide offer."

Cole's syndicate, it is believed is prepared to pay more than $3,000,000 or greater than $1,000 a share of stock. About two years ago, Ellis Ryan sold out to the present Indians owners for $600 a share.

Fight Winner May Get Shot At Marciano

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Spurred by the announcement that the winner will be considered a contender for a shot at Rocky Marciano's title, heavyweights Charley Norkus of Port Washington, N. Y., and Charlie Powell, San Diego, battle it out here tonight in a scheduled 10-rounder.

The fight will be televised from the Civic Auditorium, starting at 9 p.m. CST, over CBS.

Al Weill, manager of Marciano, announced Monday he would consider the winner for a possible crack at the crown next summer. Marciano is here to referee one of the preliminaries and will take a good look at the main eventers.

Syracuse Beats Louisville, 6-3, In Little Series

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Syracuse Chiefs, 6-3 winner over Louisville in the third game of the Little World Series Tuesday night, headed for home today.

Play will be resumed at Syracuse Thursday night, with Louisville holding a 2-1 edge in the best four-of-seven games.

Rain kept Tuesday night's contest to seven innings as Syracuse used John Meyer, strikeout leader of the International League, and Kent Peterson to tame Louisville. They gave up only two hits.

Teammates Pass Hat for Boy With Rheumatic Fever

LINCOLN, Ill. (AP)—Jerry Miller, promising football and basketball candidate at Lincoln high school last year, is bedfast with rheumatic fever, but his former teammates have seen to it that he can still follow sports. They passed the hat for enough contributions to buy Jerry a TV set. Jerry's mother is a widow and his brother is a member of the Lincoln football team.

Still 'Official'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— Ted Williams was back in Miami today to look after his fishing tackle business and other interests, and gave no indication he will play baseball next year.

Williams told Jimmy Burns, sports editor of the Miami Herald, on arrival from Maine Tuesday night that his retirement from baseball is official—"right as I feel at this moment."

Swami Picks Ohio State to Beat Illinois

Likes Wisconsin Over Rice; Iowa To Top Michigan

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — They laughed when the Ol' Swami opened the window. They thought he was going to jump. Maybe he should have.

WISCONSIN 20, RICE 13 — The Owls are hooting it up after piling up 75 points in victories over Florida and Cornell and think their Dickey Moegle is just about the hottest thing in football . . . He scored on runs of 17, 40, 10 and 78 yards last week and in two games has averaged 13.7 per carry . . . But the unbeaten Badgers won't be awed by statistics and should show a national television audience why they have become a top favorite for the Rose Bowl trip . . .

PURDUE 27, DUKE 14 — Duke's split-T brought a lopsided triumph over Penn and a 7-6 decision over Tennessee, but the southerners had better have an ironclad pass defense if they hope to ambush the Boilermakers . . . Sophomore Len Dawson, who tossed four touchdown passes against Missouri and repeated the same dose against Notre Dame, is the "back of the week" . . . Purdue now is ranked No. 5 nationally and Duke No. 6.

IOWA 21, MICHIGAN 10 — After that romp over Montana, the Hawkeyes are in fine fettle to continue Big Ten action . . . But they'll have to be wary. Coach Forest Evashevski's alma mater Michigan is bristling for an upset after a cannonading by Army . . .

OHIO STATE 28, ILLINOIS 14 — It was a year ago against the Buckeyes that the Illini and J. C. Caroline blossomed with a 41-20 upset . . . But in losing to Penn State and Stanford coach Ray Eliot's team looks greatly overrated this season, sadly lacking in funadmentals of tackling and blocking. . . .

MINNESOTA 20, NORTHWESTERN 13 —Halfbacks Bob and Dick McNamara are striking up quite a fanfare for the Gophers, who are clicking with surprising ease off coach Murray Warmath's new split-T . . . The Wildcats are improving and nearly knocked off sluggish Southern California. . . .

MICHIGAN STATE 14, INDIANA 7 —After absorbing two Big Ten losses the Spartans may be ready to explode . . . Their fuse is LeRoy Bolden and he is sidelined with an injury . . . Without him, the Hoosiers and Milt Campbell could make it close. . . .

NOTRE DAME 27, PITT 13 — Two of last week's beaten outfits try a comeback . . . The Panthers always have made it close against the Irish in the past, but they may have lost all their claws in stumbling 46-7 against Minnesota.

MARQUETTE 20, CINCINNATI 18 — It's time for the Warriors to harvest a scalp.

Continue Second, Third Rounds in PGA Match Play

CHICAGO (AP)— Weather permitting, the Illinois PGA Match Play tournament will continue today with the second and third rounds.

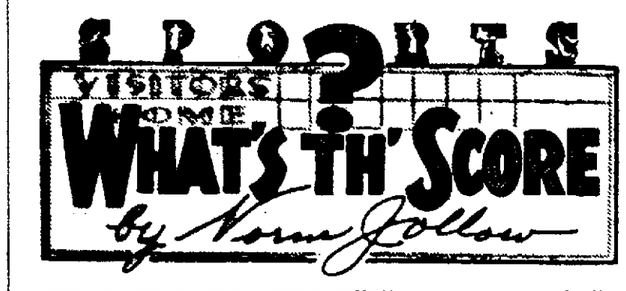
Heavy rains Tuesday forced postponement of the tourney while the second round was in progress.

Veteran Jimmy Hines, medalist qualifier Monday, defeated Steve Blatnak, 3 and 2.

Also coming through the first round successfully was Darrell Hickok of Joliet. Hickok defeated Harry Pezzullo, 2 and 1.

Pat Patton of Moline was defeated by Errie Ball of Oak Park, 4 and 3.

Hines is matched against Tony Holquin today while Hickok faces Jack Bell. Bell advanced by beating Chet Bucknell, 2 and 1.



TWO CONTESTS INVOLVING DIXON teams were called off yesterday, one permanently and the other as a postponement.

The Dixon at Mt. Morris grade school football game set for yesterday has been cancelled. After rain had washed out the game, the two schools were unable to reach an agreement on a new date before the Mt. Morris field is torn up and releveled.

THE GRADE SCHOOL TEAM has a home date with Mt. Morris later this month. Their first game will be at Freeport at 9:30 a. m. Saturday.

* * * *

DIXON'S CROSS COUNTRY MATCH with Sterling was called because of wet grounds at the Plum Hollow Country club where the Dukes run their home races. The match has been reset for 4:30 p. m. Thursday and will include Rochelle as well as Dixon and Sterling.

* * * *

About 400 tickets to the Dixon at Ottawa game went on sale today at Fulfs. There are 100 reserved seat tickets and 300 general admissions. Since this will be Ottawa's homecoming, it is suggested that Dixon fans get their tickets early.

STERLING MAY HAVE A ROUGHER TIME with DeKalb than expected Friday night when the Golden Warriors and Barbs clash at Sterling in a game which could very well settle the Northeast Division championship.

Two of Coach Bernie Mitchell's key men, tackle Ish Celestino and quarterback Jim Eshelman are out of action. Celestino has a severe cold and Eshleman has an attack of the flu. Both are expected to be sidelined for the DeKalb game.

AFTER LEARNING THAT JOHN PERRY is just suffering from a bruise as a result of the Dixon-Sterling game last week. Coach Don Barnhart said he still doubts that Perry will play at Ottawa Friday night. The bruise is quite painful.

Duck hunters are advised to clip out the shooting hours listed on this page to avoid any chance of violating the game laws.

Football Upsets Are Not Upsets, Says Lou Little

NEW YORK (AP)— Football upsets are not upsets at all, says Columbia's Coach Lou Little, who refuses to concede that the anti-platoon rule has proved the "great equalizer."

"It's no upset when Purdue scores 27 points on Notre Dame," Little contends. "It's no upset when South Carolina beats Army and Army beats Michigan.

"These are teams playing within their own class and in this modern game of football the fortunes of a game shift swiftly—a couple of good passes and a breakaway run can turn defeat into victory.

"I think football games today are won by superior coaching and superior personnel. A team takes advantage of its opportunities and wins—but it's not an upset unless the team is playing out of its class."

Still a strong proponent of the unlimited substitution rule, Little said this year's All-Star college football game in Chicago proved that the one-platoon system is not a leveler of strength.

"The pros had to play with the college restrictions," he said. "This was supposed to make it a closer game. Instead, the pros (Detroit Lions) won 31-6. They could have won by twice as much."

Al Lopez Day

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—This is Al Lopez day in Tampa, the day of the official welcome for the manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Lopez returned Tuesday but city officials agreed to give him a day at home before putting on the big celebration.

Dedication of Tampa's new baseball park as Al Lopez Field was the first event on the day's program.

Fight Results

NEW ORLEANS—Killer Jackson, 133½, New Orleans, knocked out Elvis Matthews, 135, Fort Benning, Ga., 3.
SACRAMENTO—Ramon Fuentes, 147, Los Angeles, outpointed Ernie Greer, 147, Oakland, 12.

LITTLE WORLD SERIES
Syracuse (IL) 6, Louisville (AA) 3 (Louisville leads 2-1, in best-of-7).

BUNT VS. HOMER
Casey Stengel, the New York Yankees' manager, thinks that drag bunts are as important as home runs to win games.

Arizona Has 3 of Nation's Top Five Running Backs

NEW YORK (AP)— Six of the nation's top major college ball carriers will be in action in two football games this week end when Colorado and Arizona thrash things out at Tucson, Ariz., and Wisconsin and Rice meet at Madison, Wis.

Four of the ball carriers will see action in the Colorado-Arizona game, three of them in the Colorado backfield. But Arizona has the country's No. 1 rusher and scorer in sophomore Art Luppino, who has gained 345 yards rushing and scored 57 points in his team's two games.

Statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau show Colorado's Frank Bernardi, John Bayuk and Homer Jenkins in the two-four-five spots among the rushing leaders. Each has played three games and picked up 298, 276 and 263 yards, respectively.

Meanwhile, Wisconsin's Alan Ameche and Rice's Dicky Moegle will get a chance to move in on their leaders. They are surpassed only by Luppino in average yards per game. In two contests, Ameche has picked up 234 yards and Moegle 220.

The first five among the ball carriers also includes Howie Wright, No. 3 on the list from Virginia Tech. He has gained 293 yards in 45 cracks at the line in three games.

Oregon's George Shaw and Washington's Sandy Lederman remained atop the total offense race. Shaw's 113 yards against Utah last Saturday stretched his slim margin over Lederman to 47 yards — 495 to 448. Jack Conway of Wichita picked up 247 yards against Drake for a total of 433 and third place. Purdue's sensational Len Dawson is in fourth place with 387, largely because of the 202 yards he gained in pacing the Boilermakers to their surprise victory over Notre Dame.

A quarter of Pacific Coast Conference hurlers occupy the first four passing spots and two of them, second place Paul Larson of California and third ranking Shaw, will be tossing against each other Saturday at Berkeley. Lederman is No. 1 with the most thrown, 73; most completed, 35 and the most yards gained, 459. He has had only one intercepted.

Study Plan to Provide Food for Jobless Miners

CHICAGO (AP)—A meeting has been called to discuss possible distribution of surplus food to some 5,000 unemployed coal miners in Southern Illinois.

Garrett W. Keaster, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid commission, said Tuesday the meeting will be held Monday in West Frankfort.

The meeting was called at the request of Hugh White, president of District 12 of the United Mine workers, Keaster said.

White told Keaster that 8,750 UMW miners in the state are out of work and about 5,000 of them are in Hardin, Franklin, Williamson, Saline and Perry counties.

Mines Close

Ten mines in the area have been closed in the past two years, said White, and many miners have drawn the limit of their unemployment compensation.

Keaster said representatives of the five counties, the UMW and relief authorities will be present at the meeting.

O. F. Beyer, area field supervisor of the Agricultural Marketing Service, said that among the foods available are butter, cheese, canned beef in gravy, cooking oils, powdered eggs, dried milk and beans. Fresh fruits, vegetables and even turkeys are surplus in season, he added.

Earlier, in Washington, the United Mineworkers Journal said Illinois state officials are trying to "sabotage" distribution of government-supplied surplus food to the miners.

An editorial written in the Journal by Editor Cecil Owen, who died Tuesday, said that Keaster had written the union about high costs of distributing surplus food.

Accuses Keaster

The editorial accused Keaster of "misstatements" as to distribution costs, quantities of food involved and the necessity of determining whether recipients actually are in need.

"His indifference toward the needs of the unemployed is matched only by his brassbound conscience and ability to prepare phony figures," the editorial concluded.

BUILDS STRONG BODIES

Housewife Loses Faith in Adage

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Irving Kessler of Grand Rapids will give you an argument on the old adage "Lightning never strikes twice in the same place."

During a recent electrical storm, a bolt of lightning started a fire in upstairs wiring in her home. Awakened by barking dogs, Mrs. Kessler and her husband put out the fire.

Hours later, a second bolt struck the couple's house, starting a second fire—this time in the outside wiring.

The second blaze also was put out quickly, as was Mrs. Kessler's faith in old sayings.

Sen. Bridges Urges Return Of Old Flag

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP)— Sen. Bridges (R-NH) has called for a return to the days of the rattlesnake flag so the Communist will be "afraid to take any action which may possibly call for strong measures on our part."

The president pro tempore of the Senate told a civil defense session at St. Anselm College Tuesday night he is "tired of being afraid of the Russians" and "it is about time the Russians started to be afraid of us."

"I truly believe that the only hope of peace is for us to return to the principles which made this nation great; to cease appeasement; to cease compromise on fundamental principles," he said.

Bridges noted that the first flag of the republic was a coiled rattlesnake with a motto "Don't Tread on Me" and said that "in my opinion, that is the attitude we better adopt in the world today."

The New Hampshire senior senator said his statement "is going to be misinterpreted by the phony intellectuals" but added he could not "completely subscribe to the retaliation theory."

"I have tried to find out why we are automatically supposed to allow our enemy to attack first," he declared. "This business of 'After you my dear Alfonse,' if it is going to cost 20 million American lives, very frankly is distasteful to me."

Wife Claims Husband Beat, Chained Her

FORT SCOTT, Kan. (AP)—A 28-year-old mother told authorities Tuesday her husband whipped her with sticks, gun butts and a rubber hose and chained her in bed with him at night.

Mrs. Doris Blackmore was hospitalized in serious condition. She is the mother of five children ranging in age from 2 to 8.

Her 33-year-old husband Cecil pleaded innocent at his arraignment to charges of assault with intent to do bodily harm. He was held in county jail after failing to post $5,000 bond.

In a signed statement, Mrs. Blackmore said the beatings took place over a two-month period, "sometimes twice a day." She said her husband twice broke gun stocks in beating her over the head and shoulders.

Undersheriff Claude Emrick said Blackmore orally admitted beating his wife but denied breaking the gunstocks on her. The officer quoted Blackmore, a farmer, as saying he was jealous of his wife but did not explain why.

HONORS MONROE — Commemorating the proclamation of the Monroe Doctrine in 1823, the Post Office Department in Washington, D. C., will issue this five-cent stamp at Fredericksburg, Va., Dec. 2. The stamp bears a likeness of President James Monroe from a portrait by Rembrandt Peale.

Triplet Calves

VICI, Okla. (AP) — Cliff Kahoe's Jersey cow has Whiteface triplets. Kahoe says the calves, whose father was a Hereford, are becoming family pets. There is a traffic jam at meal time. All three insist on nursing from the same side.
